There is not and there was never claimed to be anything of the Mugwump in Mr. Cleveland: His fealty to his party has stood severe tests heretofore and may had him to desire the success of its ticket now, but so long as he goes on in his own way administering the Government according to his own ideas, instead of in compliance with the wish of the spoilsmen, no reasonable being will quarrel with him for that. a tricky politician whose election would be a blow at the policy of the Administra-tion. Yet the President himself gives his official indorsement to this "tricky poli-tician" whose election he is so anxious to bring about that he goes out of his way to give it a boom from the White House. Here we have this ideal President in openconflict with the Mugwumps, enlisted on the side of the "spoilsmen," elect a man so objectionable that he is op-posed by every so-called independent orean, but the Heral's flods nothing in his course, to censure. This is Mugwump consistency.

The Interior Department will postpone any consideration of the new charges presented by the Maryland Civil Service Association against Indian Inspector Themas until the return of Assistant Secretary Jenks. It is astonishing how this "reform" Administration holds to such men as Higgins and Thomas in spite of the very grave charges that have been preferred against them by an association whose object lit is to protect the civil service. The case against Thomas is summed up by the New York Evening Post as follows: 'The davits and transcripts from the public recrds, go to show that the brokerage firm of J. P. Thomas & Son, of which he was January, 1876. Shortly before the fallure the firm received $10,000 in Baltimore water loan bonds from the German Fire Insurance Company, to be sold for account of the latter. The bonds were received on the 13th of December, 1875. Statements of sales of the securities were made out by the firm and :delivered to the insurance company at prices rauging from 104 to 105. and checks were remitted for the proceeds. The last check, dated December 1. 1875, for $5.187.50, was returned not paid that is, the firm of J. P. Thomas & Son had drawn for that sum without having the funds in bank. This was a sufficiently grave offence, but it was aggravated by the discovery that $5,000 of the bonds had been transferred to the Thomases themselves on the books of the Register of Baltimore on the 13th of December, the day n which they had been sent in for sale by | tional. Lee holes that no party has the right to exist at the South but the Democratic party; Wise, is fighting for the existence of Republica tism there. As has been said, both were once secessionists and rehels but what the Despocratic organs do not seem able to appredicte is, that it is not so much matier what they were once as what they are now, and what they pow represeut. There is a Southern qu'etion to-day. it is in a sense new; it is thoroughly nathe right to cast such a ballot as he chooses, and, when east, have it honestly theatres for fighting out the war of the reinsurance company. The total liabilities, also comes, into prominence to day as one of the failed firm were $68,718.53 and the of the chief theatres of this new conflict assets exactly $47."
